

Recommendations

Research and policy opportunities to improve respiratory health in urban slums

- Comprehensive strategies to meet clean air guidelines for ambient air and air in the home
- Educational campaigns and packaged interventions to improve home environment, improve diet, and encourage physical activity
- Better understand the role of built environment in health, and the development of safe neighborhoods and green spaces

Research and policy opportunities to improve respiratory health in urban slums

- Planning efforts to regulate urbanization and develop provisions for regulation of neighborhood growth and land tenure
- Expand access to preventive care, vaccination against S. pneumoniae, H. influenzae and influenza virus, tobacco smoke, and healthy eating
- Governmental policies focused on poverty reduction and equity in healthcare access

www.globalincd.org

